THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

1952

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REVISION OF THE CURRICULUM OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Submitted to the Faculty of the Department of Chemistry, University of Chicago, June 1952

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REVISION OF THE CURRICULUM OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

RECOMMENDATION	REASON
1. The curriculum should be revised to provide a more balanced and comprehensive education for all students in the Department of Chemistry.	The present curriculum is too narrow and does not provide adequate training in the basic sciences and in the history and philosophy of chemistry.
2. The curriculum should be revised to provide a more rigorous and challenging education for all students in the Department of Chemistry.	The present curriculum is too easy and does not provide adequate training in the advanced sciences and in the history and philosophy of chemistry.
3. The curriculum should be revised to provide a more practical and applied education for all students in the Department of Chemistry.	The present curriculum is too theoretical and does not provide adequate training in the practical aspects of chemistry.
4. The curriculum should be revised to provide a more interdisciplinary education for all students in the Department of Chemistry.	The present curriculum is too narrow and does not provide adequate training in the other sciences and in the history and philosophy of chemistry.
5. The curriculum should be revised to provide a more international education for all students in the Department of Chemistry.	The present curriculum is too narrow and does not provide adequate training in the history and philosophy of chemistry.
